

The Vermont Phoenix.

BRATTLEBORO:
FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 7, 1876.

Republican Nominations.

FOR PRESIDENT,
RUTHERFORD B. HAYES, OF OHIO.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM A. WHEELER, OF NEW YORK.

FOR GOVERNOR,
HORACE FAIRBANKS,
OF NEW JERSEY.

FOR LIUT.-GOVERNOR,
REDFIELD PROCTOR, OF RUTLAND.

FOR TREASURER,
JOHN A. PAGE,
OF MONTPELIER.

FOR JUDICIAL ELECTIONS,
JACOB ESTES, of Brattleboro;
C. E. HOUGHTON, of Bennington.

The Phoenix for the Campaign.

We will send The Vermont Phoenix to any address from this date until after the Presidential Election—a period of 4 months and a half—for 30 cts. (variably in advance). We shall aim to make The Phoenix as heretofore an exponent of the best political sentiment, and our columns speak for themselves of our purpose to give an intelligent and hearty support to the Republican ticket, both National and State.

A recent national increase in our subscription list, for the time of year, leads us to hope that this liberal offer will be widely accepted. Send in the names!

June 29, 1876.

Thurloe Weed says Tilden will not carry New York.

The reduction in the public debt for June was $3,981,397.

Judge Davis of the U. S. Supreme Bench, who was spoken of as a Democratic candidate for the Presidency, has come out for Hayes and Wheeler.

We are obliged by a pressure of matter connected with the celebration of our Centennial Anniversary, to defer another week our editorial comments on the Democratic nominations, with much other original matter.

Carl Schurz will support Hayes and Wheeler. Tilden's nomination, with the soft money tail to the Democratic kite, was too much for him. He is out with a blast in which he says that the reform pretensions of the Democrats are humbug, while he calls Hendricks a paper whilodier.

The Emperor William of Germany sent President Grant a very graceful and happy letter of congratulation on the occasion of our hundredth birthday. The letter was delivered to the President on Tuesday morning by the German minister in person, at the express direction of the Emperor.

Gov. Dix of New York, in a letter accepting the chairmanship of the National Soldiers' and Sailors' Union, pronounces unequivocally for Hayes and Wheeler, and says that a man cannot be elected president who, during the war, was not actively and openly opposed to the adversaries of the Union.

Mr. Blaine bore the journey from Washington to Augusta pretty well, but his family physician considers his nervous prostration more severe than has been supposed. He prescribes absolute rest—prohibiting him even to write a letter—and gives no encouragement that he will be able to take any part in the coming campaign.

A large amount of fresh and timely matter will be found on our outside pages to-day. On the first page we give an original Centennial Hymn, the second in our interesting series of Centennial Letters, a report of the St. Louis convention, with the platform in full and sketches of the candidates, reports of the Republican County convention and of the Antislavery convention, together with interesting campaign notes and political gossip. On the second page is an appreciative article on Mr. Wheeler, a tribute to Mr. Brewster, and other political and miscellaneous reading.

The dead lock on the appropriation bills between the two houses of Congress threatened for a time last week to put a complete stop to the Government's affairs, but an agreement was temporarily averted by an agreement upon a truce, by the terms of which the unexpended balances are to be used for a period of ten days from June 30. Before the end of this time it is hoped that the Democrats will desist from their stubborn and unwise course in attempting to compel the public service, and agree to a satisfactory compromise with the Senate. The Belknap trial has been postponed to November, and it now seems probable that an adjournment may be had as soon as the 15th.

The State Ticket.

The Republican papers of the State, without exception, are in terms of unqualified approval of the ticket nominated at Montpelier last week. The Montpelier Freeman enthusiastically says that "30,000 majority is what it means!" and the Watchman has a word of cordial approval for a feature of Mr. Fairbanks's nomination which was entirely unnoticed by one present at the meeting—his special mention last week.

"It adds immeasurably both to the value of the nomination and the worth of the recipient, that the flattering testimonial was entirely unostentatious, and that the recipient was able to say even that the nomination would be accepted. Herein is a hint which is a hopeful outgrowth of the time, and which future aspirants for positions of honor and trust, at the hands of the people, should do well to take as a note."

Other leading papers express equal satisfaction with the ticket, and there is no doubt that in doing so they correctly voice the universal feeling of the people. The ticket is one to work for and grow enthusiastic over.

To speak of Redfield Proctor, the nominee for Lieutenant Governor, to the people of Rutland county or of Vermont would be a work of supererogation. He is too well known, too highly appreciated, to need words of commendation. The fact that, without any such being done for him, he was the spontaneous, unanimous, hearty choice of the Republicans of Vermont; that not a breath of opposition was made to his nomination, for the simple reason that it was of that kind that could not be opposed; that he was nominated by such a convention, in such a time, and with such other candidates associated with him, tells, better than words, the manner of man he is. The good work commenced at Clinton with the nomination of Hayes and Wheeler; it was rounded out and perfected at Montpelier. With Hayes and Wheeler, and Fairbanks and Proctor, the Republicans of Vermont will sweep the State as with a whirlwind, and the winning of an old-fashioned Republican majority will, after September, take on a new significance—Rutland Globe.

JULY 4, 1876.

Our 100th Anniversary.

OLD WINDHAM HONORS THE DAY!

CELEBRATIONS IN BRATTLEBORO.

BRATTLEBORO, JULY 4, 1876. The town of Brattleboro, Mass., and its association with the history of the State, were the subject of the day's celebration. The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The Day in the State, at Philadelphia, and all over the Country.

Full Reports of Proceedings.

It is with a feeling of genuine satisfaction that we are enabled to lay before our readers, to-day, through the promptness and efficiency of our correspondents, a complete and detailed report of Tuesday's patriotic observances throughout this county. And what is more, we think that to compare this list with that of any other county in this State or in New England, the patriotism of old Windham is evident to the eye.

BRATTLEBORO.

A PLEASANT AND SATISFACTORY CELEBRATION.

—A delectable explosion of fire crackers and squibs on the afternoon of the third inst., which intensified and increased as night approached, gave due notice to the people of Brattleboro that the day of the Fourth of July was at hand, and we think we hazard nothing in saying that no person living within the village limits was not during the next hundred years, the manner in which, at precisely 12 o'clock, midnight, the great day was ushered in.

At six o'clock A. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

At six o'clock P. M., the program of the day's celebration opened with the firing of cannon, and the ringing of all the church bells, and then it was that everybody awoke to a full realization of the fact that the day of the Fourth of July had reached its one hundredth birthday, and that its children were bound with one accord to show due honor to the event.

many years, John and Thomas Sargent and John Alexander were born in Fort Dunham, Col. John V. Sargent was born in 1773, and died in 1873, when he was 100 years old. He was a soldier in the Revolutionary war, and a member of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

The town was chartered in 1773, to Col. Brattle of Cambridge, Mass., and his associates. The town was the scene of the first battle of the Revolution, and the site of the first settlement of the State.

Monitor at Hampton Roads at the time of the attack from the rebel Merrimack, and in the presence of the British fleet of the day, the Monitor was the decisive point, and the battle of the Monitor was the decisive point.

Dr. H. D. Holton was next introduced, to the assembly, and made a brief but felicitous remarks, alluding specially to the important subject of education.

Second Centennial Quotation.—Song: Honor to the Soldier—quartet. Prof. Ellis Chandler was then introduced. His brief remarks were beaming with humor and patriotic sentiment. He spoke of his sixteen years residence in Brattleboro and of the kindly spirit manifested by its inhabitants. And, he asked, who should be more welcome here than a Frenchman, especially in Vermont, in these very days of French origin?

The proceedings closed with the singing of "America" by the glee club, the audience joining.

"Early dusk a large crowd of people began to gather upon the vacant lot on Oak street, and the celebration was under way for letting off the fireworks, and promptly at 8:30 the pyrotechnic display commenced. We have seen exhibitions of fireworks which included more large and expensive pieces than were shown on this occasion, but we have never seen one in which the display was so continuous or in which the route of the procession was so general.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

shel, with his assistants, then formed the regular procession on Main street, headed by the band and Scott Post G. A. R., followed by speakers, visiting clergymen, young ladies representing the States and territories, Champion engine company of South Londonderry, and citizens. After passing up Main street into Mechanic St. as far as Holton's boat factory, the column wheeled and repaired to the speaker's stand, on the village green. Mr. E. L. Waterman, the president of the day, called the audience to order, and made a neat and appropriate introductory speech. Prayer was next offered by Rev. A. B. Emmons, and Rev. J. H. Parnall read the Declaration, Judge Hoyt H. Wheeler then began his historical address; but his interesting narrative was suddenly interrupted by something not provided for in the programme—a July shower; or as the president said, on re-assembling after the shower, the historical address was punctuated by a "dash." Judge Wheeler finally resumed his address from the stand, though the marshals, in attempting to bring the people together, were repeatedly driven from the field by the rain. By a happy condensation of his valuable paper, Judge Wheeler concluded while the rain was falling; and as another heavy shower seemed about to fall, as many as could gain admission to the town hall, met there and listened to a timely and eloquent oration by Rev. N. R. Chandler, of Montpelier, and a poem by Mr. A. B. Emmons, pronounced by the president, and responses had been prepared; but owing to the lateness of the hour and the trial of the fire companies, this part was reluctantly omitted. In the trial play, the Champion of South Londonderry threw 15 feet 2 inches, and the Wampanoag of Jamaica, 12 feet 10 inches. It is but just to add that both companies did well; and that the Champion engine has a 2 inch cylinder and three inch bore, while the Wampanoag has a four inch cylinder and 2 inch bore. The Derry boys were most cordially received, and went home highly pleased with their visit. A good display of fireworks closed the exercises of the day. We do not exaggerate when we say that, despite the weather, the celebration was a success. The marshals, band and officers did their work well; and the young ladies were a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

shel, with his assistants, then formed the regular procession on Main street, headed by the band and Scott Post G. A. R., followed by speakers, visiting clergymen, young ladies representing the States and territories, Champion engine company of South Londonderry, and citizens. After passing up Main street into Mechanic St. as far as Holton's boat factory, the column wheeled and repaired to the speaker's stand, on the village green. Mr. E. L. Waterman, the president of the day, called the audience to order, and made a neat and appropriate introductory speech. Prayer was next offered by Rev. A. B. Emmons, and Rev. J. H. Parnall read the Declaration, Judge Hoyt H. Wheeler then began his historical address; but his interesting narrative was suddenly interrupted by something not provided for in the programme—a July shower; or as the president said, on re-assembling after the shower, the historical address was punctuated by a "dash." Judge Wheeler finally resumed his address from the stand, though the marshals, in attempting to bring the people together, were repeatedly driven from the field by the rain. By a happy condensation of his valuable paper, Judge Wheeler concluded while the rain was falling; and as another heavy shower seemed about to fall, as many as could gain admission to the town hall, met there and listened to a timely and eloquent oration by Rev. N. R. Chandler, of Montpelier, and a poem by Mr. A. B. Emmons, pronounced by the president, and responses had been prepared; but owing to the lateness of the hour and the trial of the fire companies, this part was reluctantly omitted. In the trial play, the Champion of South Londonderry threw 15 feet 2 inches, and the Wampanoag of Jamaica, 12 feet 10 inches. It is but just to add that both companies did well; and that the Champion engine has a 2 inch cylinder and three inch bore, while the Wampanoag has a four inch cylinder and 2 inch bore. The Derry boys were most cordially received, and went home highly pleased with their visit. A good display of fireworks closed the exercises of the day. We do not exaggerate when we say that, despite the weather, the celebration was a success. The marshals, band and officers did their work well; and the young ladies were a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on hand, and the crowd was well managed. The torches were lighted, and the boys at once fell into rank and the torchlight procession took up its line of march with the brass band at the head.

The torchlight procession, which was the feature of the celebration, was a most attractive feature of the procession. The police were on